

CONNECTICUT NURSERY AND LANDSCAPE ASSOCIATION

CNLA is the most influential organization for promoting, enhancing and protecting Connecticut's green industries.

What is the Connecticut Nursery & Landscape Association?

THE CNLA REPRESENTS 51% OF THE TOTAL AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION IN CONNECTICUT and is one of the leading voices throughout the state for the green industry. Our industry provides jobs to 30,000 people with more needed. Our industry keeps more than 46,000 acres in agriculture, of which 23 percent is open space and at least 3 percent is in a land preservation program. CNLA's nearly three hundred green industry members include wholesale and retail nurseries, garden centers, landscape contractors, florists, arborists, landscape architects, landscape designers, suppliers, educators, researchers and allied businesses. CNLA members are professionals who take pride in their work and uphold the highest standards in horticulture, environmental practices and land stewardship. CNLA is also dedicated to the development and implementation of programs that provide skilled and licensed workers and contribute to the well-being of Connecticut's communities and environment.

Why should I become a member?

CNLA's mission is to promote, enhance and protect Connecticut's green industries. As a member of CNLA, you and your company will enjoy the advantages of our many services, educational and training programs, professional certifications, networking, advocacy, leadership opportunities, industry research, activities, and more.

Our association offers many benefits:

- Educational meetings, functions, and trade shows that offer technical training and pesticide credit.
- Networking opportunities with industry professionals.
- In-house certification and training education throughout the year.
- The state's only professional certification program for the nursery industry which is accepted in other New England states.
- Direct link to federal, state and local legislative issues.
- Close ties with the CT Experiment Station and UCONN Extension, which provide training and up-to-date information on current issues and trends pertinent to the green industry.
- Web visibility for your business through our public website www.cnla.biz, where consumers can search for member companies by specialty or geographic location and which also provides a link to your company's website.
- CNLA is working with state agencies and UCONN to assist students and future employees in training for careers in the landscape industry and provide member companies with trained, skilled workers.
- CNLA has representatives serving on the CT Water Planning Council Advisory Group and the CT Invasive Plant Council.
- Discount programs to Solar Installations, credit card processing and Town Fair Tire Fleet Program.
- Free Legal Advice (limited), classified ads, visibility of the CNLA website and social media.

For a nominal membership investment, you can join the hundreds of others in the industry who have already taken advantage of the many benefits CNLA has to offer.
